How commute groups do their magic

Users scroll through groups suggested by Pave Commute or create their own ones.

Based on the users' home address, their schedule and their preferred means of transport,
choosing a group
is easy.

Similar means of transport

Group members organize their commutes in the chat or with the calendar widget.

Most groups are carpool groups. Furthermore, users create a decent number of bike groups.

No one but users themselves can share sensitive data.

Getting started is easy!

1. Start a free trial at pavecommute.app

2. Invite colleagues to join: Commuting is better with friends, make sure to invite colleagues to join, get recognition for their sustainable commutes, share commutes with colleagues, and inspire others to join

3. Introduce rewards: Make sure your team feels the love for their sustainable commutes by adding rewards and watch your community continue to grow

4. Build a movement: Foster a more environmentally conscious culture that celebrates your team's contributions to corporate sustainability.

"Relaxed into work by bus and Pave Commute. On top of that I get rewarded by hali. It's great!"

Michaela Maurer, user at hali
